Change and cancellation of the event, refund of the entry fee

- If the organiser is obliged to make changes in the organisation of the event or to cancel it due to official or legal orders, force majeure or for safety reasons, the organiser shall not be liable for damages to the participant, there shall be no claim for reimbursement of the entry fee and there shall be no claim for compensation for other damages such as travel or accommodation costs.

- Refund of the entry fee will only be considered in the event of complete cancellation of the event, if the cancellation is the responsibility of the organiser. - The participant reserves the right to prove in each case that no costs were incurred or that the costs were significantly lower.

Exclusion of liability

- The organiser shall not be liable for damage not caused at least by gross negligence; exceptions to this limitation of liability are damage caused by the culpable breach of a main contractual obligation of the organiser and damage to the life, body or health of a person.
- The aforementioned limitations of liability also extend in particular to personal liability for damages of employees, representatives, vicarious agents and third parties whom the organiser uses in connection with the implementation of the event or with whom it is contractually associated for this purpose.
- The organiser accepts no liability for health risks of the participant in connection with participation in the event. The participant is responsible for his/her own state of health.
